An Overview of Corporate Governance at Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd. (the “Company”) is Described Below.

I Basic Policy Regarding Corporate Governance and Capital Structure

1. Basic Policy

1. Basic Views

Sumitomo Rubber Industries’ basic management policy is to enhance not only its economic value but also its social value and contribute to the development of a sustainable society by ensuring that “Our Philosophy” is the foundation for all decision-making and the starting point for all actions. Under this policy, the Company considers the enhancement of corporate governance as one of its major management objectives. Through initiatives toward the achievement of this management objective, the Company aims to establish deep relationships of trust with society and enhance its fairness and transparency, while ensuring Group-wide business efficiency. Accordingly, the Company has formulated its basic views as follows and strives to further enhance its corporate governance.

- a) We will develop an environment to secure shareholder rights and opportunities to exercise their rights.
- b) We will enhance our corporate value by appropriately cooperating with a wide range of stakeholders.
- c) We will disclose the Company’s financial and non-financial information in an accurate and appropriate manner.
- d) We have established a Management Committee to deliberate on the majority of issues relating to business execution so that the Board of Directors will fully discuss matters on the overall direction of the Company including the management policy and medium- to long-term plans. Furthermore, the fair operation of the Board of Directors will be ensured through strict audits by the standing audit & supervisory board members and independent outside audit & supervisory board members as well as through objective supervision by the independent outside directors.
- e) We will strive to continuously enhance our corporate value through dialogue with shareholders.

(1) Reasons for Non-compliance with Principles of the Corporate Governance Code

[Principle 4.2: Roles and Responsibilities of the Board of Directors (2)]

[Principle 4.2.1: Management Remuneration (linked to medium- to long-term results)]

Although the Company does not provide incentives in the form of stock compensation, it offers incentives that will lead to the sustainable growth of the Company, by way of encouraging the purchase of the Company’s stock through the Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd. Officers’ Shareholding Association awarding bonuses based on the achievement of the medium- to long-term plan, etc. With respect to remuneration and stock compensation that are linked to medium- to long-term results, the Company will continue to study the most suitable timing of adoption and the most appropriate form of such remuneration through dialogue with shareholders under the leadership of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, the majority of whose members are independent outside officers.

(2) Disclosure Based on Principles of the Corporate Governance Code

[Principle 1.4: Disclosure of the Policy on Cross-shareholdings and the Standards for the Exercise of Voting Rights as to Cross-shareholdings]

1) Policy on cross-shareholdings: The Company may hold shares of its business partners, etc., with an aim for the continuous enhancement of its corporate value over the medium to long term, stable corporate management, and reinforcement of relationships with its business partners; provided, however, that the Company has made it its policy to periodically examine the shares of each individual company from a medium- to long-term perspective. If the Company decided that it is unnecessary to continue holding the shares, the Company will consider selling them, taking the stock prices and market trends into consideration as well.

2) Close examination and verification of the adequacy of shareholdings: The Company has made it its policy to have the Board of Directors periodically judge the adequacy of shareholdings, taking into comprehensive consideration the significance of the shareholdings and economic rationality, such as growth potential, profitability, and reinforcement of business relationships. In November 2020, the Company examined the adequacy of shareholdings and sold some shares.

3) Standards for the exercise of voting rights: The Company exercises its voting rights as to the cross-shareholdings by comprehensively taking into account whether the Company as a shareholder will be able to contribute to the improvement of the investee's corporate value and whether such exercise will lead to the medium- to long-term improvement of the Company's corporate value, as well as through dialogue with the investee. When there is a possibility that the shareholders' value may be significantly damaged or that a serious concern about corporate governance may arise due to long-term underperformance or serious violation of compliance of the investee or for other reasons, the Company will gather sufficient information by various means including dialogue with the investee and make a comprehensive decision on the agenda.

[Principle 1.7: Establishment of Procedures for Related Party Transactions and Disclosure of Such Procedures]

The Company has established a system to ensure that the common interests of the Company and its shareholders are not harmed by periodically monitoring competitive transactions and conflict of interest transactions involving directors or audit & supervisory board members as well as related party transactions with parties including major shareholders as a matter for resolution by the Board of Directors, while at the same time externally disclosing such transactions pursuant to applicable laws and regulations including the Companies Act and the rules of the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

[Principle 2.6: Exercise of the Function as the Asset Owner of the Corporate Pension]

The management of the Company's corporate pension fund is examined and planned by the quarterly Assets Management Committee with respect to the management of pension assets based also on reports from management institutions, and is executed by the Sumitomo Rubber Combined Corporate Pension Fund.

The Assets Management Committee consists of persons from the Human Resources, Accounting, and Finance Departments who have appropriate qualifications on investment and executives of the labor union as the representative of beneficiaries, establishing a system that allows the management of pension resources to be checked soundly from the perspectives of specialties and beneficiary protection.

[Principle 3.1: Full Disclosure]

(i) Management philosophy, management strategies, and managerial plans

The basic management policy of the Sumitomo Rubber Group is to enhance not only its economic value but also its social value and contribute to the development of a sustainable society, based on the Group's corporate philosophy, "Our Philosophy." "Our Philosophy" is structured such that at the top, there is our Purpose, which is defined as "Through innovation we will create a future of joy and well-being for all." Next there are our "Story," "Vision," and the "Values each member of Sumitomo Rubber Industries holds, the SRI WAY." In addition to promoting business activities that take "Our Philosophy" as the foundation for all decision-making and the starting point for all actions, the Company also aims to achieve its "Mid-Term Plan" which was formulated to embody "Our Philosophy."

For details on "Our Philosophy" and "Mid-Term Plan," please refer to our website Our Philosophy (<https://www.srigroup.co.jp/english/corporate/philosophy.html>).

(ii) Basic views and policy on corporate governance
Please refer to “1. Basic Views” of “Basic Policy.”

(iii) Policy and procedures for determining the remuneration of senior management and directors
Policies for Determining Officer Remuneration

1. Basic Policy

The basic policy of the Company is to adopt a remuneration system that is linked to the interests of shareholders, in order to ensure that remuneration for its officers (directors and executive officers) functions sufficiently as an incentive to sustainably enhance corporate value, while also ensuring that, when making decisions about the remuneration of individual officers, this remuneration is at a level appropriate to their respective responsibilities.

Specifically, remuneration for directors, excluding outside directors, and executive officers consists of basic salary as fixed remuneration and bonuses as performance-based remuneration. Remuneration for outside directors, who perform a supervisory function, consists only of basic salary, from the perspective of ensuring the impendence of their performance of duties.

2. Policies Related to Determination of the Amount of Basic Salary for Individuals

The basic salary of officers of the Company is a monthly fixed remuneration, and is determined in accordance with their position, responsibilities, and years in office, based on basic salary tables determined after comprehensively taking into consideration the level of remuneration at peers, the business performance of the Company, salary levels for employees, and other factors.

3. Policies Related to Determination of the Content of Performance-Based Remuneration and Method of Calculating its Amount

In order to enhance officers’ awareness of enhancing business performance each business year, performance-based remuneration is cash-based remuneration that reflects performance indicators. An amount corresponding to the level of achievement of performance indicators is paid at a certain time each year. The Company selects performance indicators that it prioritizes in its corporate strategy, such as business profit and profit attributable to owners of parent company. The values of these indicators are determined when plans are formulated, in a way that is consistent with the mid-term managerial plan, and are revised as necessary in accordance with changes in the environment, taking into consideration any recommendations from the Nomination and Remuneration Committee.

When determining the allocation to each individual, the individual’s position, operational duties, level of responsibility, level of achievement of key targets within departments under his or her supervision, level of contribution to business performance, and other factors are taken into account, also taking into consideration a medium- to long-term perspective.

4. Policies Related to Determination of the Proportion of the Amounts of Basic Salary and Performance-Based Remuneration in the Amount of Remuneration for Individuals

The proportion of each type of remuneration for directors, excluding outside directors, and executive officers is structured such that the weighting of performance-based remuneration is higher for officers with higher positions than lower positions, and is considered by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, taking into consideration remuneration levels benchmarked against companies of a similar business scale to the Company or in a related industry or business format. The Board of Directors (the Representative Director and President delegated as described in item 5.) determines the details of remuneration for individual officers within the scope of the proportion of remuneration for each type of remuneration indicated in the recommendation of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, while also respecting the content of this recommendation.

Furthermore, in terms of general amounts for the proportion of each type of remuneration, the ratio of fixed remuneration (basic salary) to performance-based remuneration (bonus) is 7:3 for directors, excluding outside directors, and 8:2 for executive officers. (If the level of achievement of performance indicators is

Position	Fixed remuneration (basic salary)	Performance-based remuneration (bonus)
Director	70%	30%
Officer other than director	80%	20%

5. Matters Related to Delegation of Details of Remuneration, etc. for Individual Officers

The Representative Director and President is delegated to determine the specific content of the amount of remuneration for individuals by resolution of the Board of Directors. The content of the delegated rights includes determining the amount of basic salary for officers and appraising and allocating bonuses based on officers' operational responsibilities.

In order to ensure that the Representative Director and President appropriately exercises these rights, the Board of Directors consults the Nomination and Remuneration Committee regarding a draft proposal and receives a recommendation. The Representative Director and President delegated as described above must make a decision in accordance with the content of this recommendation.

(iv) Policy, etc. for the appointment, dismissal, and nomination of director and audit & supervisory board member candidates

1) Director candidates are nominated based on consideration of whether they can contribute to the continuous enhancement of the corporate value of the Company, including factors such as their contribution to achieving effective corporate governance and the diversity of the members of the Board of Directors in terms of knowledge and experience.

2) Audit & supervisory board member candidates are nominated based on consideration of whether they can perform their duties fairly, such as audits of the execution of directors' duties, for the sake of all stakeholders including shareholders from an independent and objective standpoint, in order to contribute to the Company's sustainable growth.

3) The nomination of director and audit & supervisory board member candidates is determined based on objective and fair consideration by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, the majority of whose members are independent outside officers and upon a recommendation of the Board of Directors.

4) When a reason arises that is confirmed to make it difficult for directors or audit & supervisory board members to appropriately execute their functions, such as serious violation of laws, ordinances, or articles of the incorporation, the Board of Directors consults the Nomination and Remuneration Committee and after obtaining its report, holds an examination and makes a decision on dismissal from the position of the person in question, other penalties, or submission of a dismissal proposal to the general meeting of shareholders.

(v) Explanations with respect to the individual appointments and nominations of director and audit & supervisory board member candidates

The reasoning behind the nomination of nominees for the Board of Directors and Audit & supervisory board shall be included in the reference materials provided with each "Notice of Convocation" of General Shareholders Meetings.

[Principle 4.1.1: Disclosure of the Scope of Matters Delegated by the Board of Directors to the Management]

The Company has developed a system that facilitates the delegation of authority from the Board of Directors and prompt and resolute decision-making by the management by establishing various rules regarding the approval authority, including the Board of Directors Rules and the Management Committee Rules, and by clearly defining the matters to be approved by each body.

[Principle 4.9: Disclosure of Independence Standards for Independent Outside Directors]

The Company judges the independence of outside directors based on whether they can contribute to the stable growth of the Company over the medium to long term, assuming that they fulfill the independence criteria set by the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

Additionally, a candidate to whom any of the following conditions apply is subject to even stricter scrutiny than the other candidates on whether falling under any of the following items damages his or her independence. The Company will also disclose to the possible extent the relationship with the said candidate and reasons that he or she is judged to be independent.

1) A person who executed business at the Company or its subsidiary in the past; 2) A person who executed business or was a non-executive director at the parent company of the Company in the past; 3) A person who executed business at a fellow subsidiary of the Company in the past; 4) A person who executed business at an entity for which the Company is a major business partner in the past; 5) A person who executed business at a major business partner of the Company in the past; 6) A person who belonged to a consultant, an accounting professional, or a legal professional entity (limited to a corporation or an organization such as an association) receiving a large amount of money or other financial assets from the Company other than officer remuneration in the past; 7) A major shareholder of the Company (if said major shareholder is a corporation, a person who executes or executed its business); 8) A close relative of the person described in 1) through 7); 9) A business partner of the Company or a person who belonged to the said business partner; 10) A person who belonged to an entity, between which and the Company's outside officers are mutually appointed; and 11) An entity to which the Company contributes donations or a person who belonged to the said entity.

[Principle 4.11.1: Balance between Knowledge, Experience and Skills of the Board of Directors, and Views on Diversity and Board Size]

The Company's Board of Directors, which includes several outside independent directors, is of an appropriate size comprising a well-balanced group of experts from various fields capable of fulfilling the functions of the Board, including manufacturing and technology, sales and marketing, finance and accounting, legal affairs, overseas business, IT and digital technologies, corporate management, and insights related to other industries. Going forward, the Company intends to select director candidates who are capable of contributing to the enhancement of the Company's corporate value, based on deliberation by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee.

[Principle 4.11.2: Disclosure of Concurrent Positions of Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members]

Please refer to the "Business Report" of the Notice of Convocation of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders posted on the Company's website.

(<https://www.srigroup.co.jp/english/ir/shareholder/generalmeeting.html>)

[Principle 4.11.3: Analysis and Evaluation of the Effectiveness of the Board of Directors and Disclosure of a Summary of Results]

In analyzing and assessing the effectiveness of the Board of Directors, said Board prepared a survey questionnaire for all Members of the Board of Directors and Members of the Audit & Supervisory Board with regard to the composition of the Board of Directors and its management situation, among other matters. Having conducted this survey between September and October of 2020, the Board of Directors in January 2021 held discussions in order to deliberate on the results obtained therefrom.

As a result of these deliberations, the Board of Directors was able to verify that said Board has, by and large, attained effectiveness in terms of its number of members and member composition, frequency of meetings, time spent deliberating and other management matters, as well as its deliberations, oversight of the business and affairs of the Company and all other aspects of its conduct.

The Company also confirmed that the provision of fuller information to outside officers contributed to more lively discussions at meetings of the Board of Directors.

The Company will work on maintaining its environment and, as necessary, execute measures to enhance its effectiveness.

[Principle 4.14.2: Disclosure of Training Policy for Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members]

The Company's internal directors and executive officers participate in external executive training programs at the Company's expense. Through participation in those training programs, the directors and executive officers acquire the knowledge necessary to play a role as part of the major governing body of a listed company. Newly appointed outside officers are briefed on the information necessary to provide advice as officers to the Company for the enhancement of its corporate value, including the Company's latest business conditions, results and issues that need to be addressed.

[Principle 5.1: Disclosure of Policy Concerning the Development of a System and Measures to Promote Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders]

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

The Company will conduct dialogue with shareholders with an aim to enhance its corporate value based on the following policy:

- a) The Company strives to realize dialogue in line with the interests of various stakeholders by appointing the officer in charge of finance for investor relations (IR) and the officer in charge of general affairs for shareholder relations (SR).
- b) In preparing materials and gathering information for the IR and SR activities mentioned above, the Company's Corporate Planning, General Affairs, Finance, Legal Affairs, and other related departments engage in organic, cross-sectional coordination in order to support constructive dialogue with stakeholders, including shareholders and institutional investors.
- c) The Company, in addition to full information disclosure at the general meeting of shareholders and through the convocation notice, provides various types of timely information such as dissemination of information on business status in addition to the status of ESG-based management and sustainability activities in the Integrated Report. In addition, the Company also holds results briefings and endeavors to promote communication with shareholders and investors.
- d) The Company considers the opinions learned through dialogue with shareholders and investors as valuable to further enhance its corporate value. While sharing such information with the senior management, the Company studies the necessity and methods for materializing such opinions as needed.
- e) When engaging in dialogue with shareholders and investors, the Company checks the explanation and disclosure materials for the dialogue with external consultants and other professionals beforehand for the purpose of preventing the risk of insider trading.

Disclosed Policy for Deciding the Amounts or Calculation Method of Remuneration

Policies for Determining Officer Remuneration

1. Basic Policy

The basic policy of the Company is to adopt a remuneration system that is linked to the interests of shareholders, in order to ensure that remuneration for its officers (directors and executive officers) functions sufficiently as an incentive to sustainably enhance corporate value, while also ensuring that, when making decisions about the remuneration of individual officers, this remuneration is at a level appropriate to their respective responsibilities.

Specifically, remuneration for directors, excluding outside directors, and executive officers consists of basic salary as fixed remuneration and bonuses as performance-based remuneration. Remuneration for outside directors, who perform a supervisory function, consists only of basic salary, from the perspective of ensuring the impendence of their performance of duties.

2. Policies Related to Determination of the Amount of Basic Salary for Individuals

The basic salary of officers of the Company is a monthly fixed remuneration, and is determined in accordance with their position, responsibilities, and years in office, based on basic salary tables determined after comprehensively taking into consideration the level of remuneration at peers, the business performance of the Company, salary levels for employees, and other factors.

3. Policies Related to Determination of the Content of Performance-Based Remuneration and Method of Calculating its Amount

In order to enhance officers' awareness of enhancing business performance each business year, performance-based remuneration is cash-based remuneration that reflects performance indicators. An amount corresponding to the level of achievement of performance indicators is paid at a certain time each year. The Company selects performance indicators that it prioritizes in its corporate strategy, such as business profit and profit attributable to owners of parent company. The values of these indicators are determined when plans are formulated, in a way that is consistent with the mid-term managerial plan, and are revised as necessary in accordance with changes in the environment, taking into consideration any recommendations from the Nomination and Remuneration Committee.

When determining the allocation to each individual, the individual's position, operational duties, level of responsibility, level of achievement of key targets within departments under his or her supervision, level of contribution to business performance, and other factors are taken into account, also taking into consideration a medium- to long-term perspective.

4. Policies Related to Determination of the Proportion of the Amounts of Basic Salary and Performance-Based Remuneration in the Amount of Remuneration for Individuals

The proportion of each type of remuneration for directors, excluding outside directors, and executive officers is structured such that the weighting of performance-based remuneration is higher for officers with higher positions than lower positions, and is considered by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, taking into consideration remuneration levels benchmarked against companies of a similar business scale to the Company or in a related industry or business format. The Board of Directors (the Representative Director and President delegated as described in item 5.) determines the details of remuneration for individual officers within the scope of the proportion of remuneration for each type of remuneration indicated in the recommendation of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, while also respecting the content of this recommendation.

Furthermore, in terms of general amounts for the proportion of each type of remuneration, the ratio of fixed remuneration (basic salary) to performance-based remuneration (bonus) is 7:3 for directors, excluding outside directors, and 8:2 for executive officers. (If the level of achievement of performance indicators is 100%)

Position	Fixed remuneration (basic salary)	Performance-based remuneration (bonus)
Director	70%	30%
Officer other than director	80%	20%

5. Matters Related to Delegation of Details of Remuneration, etc. for Individual Officers

The Representative Director and President is delegated to determine the specific content of the amount of remuneration for individuals by resolution of the Board of Directors. The content of the delegated rights includes determining the amount of basic salary for officers and appraising and allocating bonuses based on officers' operational responsibilities.

In order to ensure that the Representative Director and President appropriately exercises these rights, the Board of Directors consults the Nomination and Remuneration Committee regarding a draft proposal and receives a recommendation. The Representative Director and President delegated as described above must make a decision in accordance with the content of this recommendation.

[Support System for Outside Directors (Outside Audit & Supervisory Board Members)]

Outside directors and outside audit & supervisory board members receive explanations in advance about the content of matters that have been submitted for deliberation by the Board of Directors so that they can sufficiently check and review such matters submitted.

Outside audit & supervisory board members receive explanations on the content of important in-house meetings at the Audit & Supervisory Board, and conduct their audits after receiving reports and explanations from the internal audit office, an internal control department, the executive officers in charge of business execution and the accounting auditor, which are done in a timely manner. The results of the above audits and opinions and proposals given by each outside audit & supervisory board member are appropriately reflected on the internal audit, the audit & supervisory board members' audit and the accounting audit to enhance the effectiveness of these audits.

Decisions to appoint persons who have formerly served as Representative Director and President, etc. as Advisor are made through deliberation by the Board of Directors. In addition, Advisors do not participate in any kind of decision-making related to management.

2. Items relating to Functions of Business Execution, Audit and Supervision, Nomination, and Decision on Remuneration, etc.

The Company has adopted a corporate system with an Audit & Supervisory Board and maintains directors, a general meeting of shareholders, accounting auditor and the following bodies.

The Company's Board of Directors deliberates and determines matters of managerial importance and supervises directors' execution of operations. As of the filing date of this report, the Board of Directors was composed of 12 members, 4 of whom were outside directors.

Audit & supervisory board members independently conduct auditing of directors' execution of operations. As of the filing date of this report, the Company adopted a structure of 5 audit & supervisory board members, 2 of whom were standing audit & supervisory board members. Standing audit & supervisory board members attend important internal meetings and confirm important documents for approval.

The Audit & Supervisory Board is composed of all of the Company's audit & supervisory board members. From the aspect of reinforcing the management auditing function, 3 of the 5 audit & supervisory board members serve as outside audit & supervisory board members, securing a structure to conduct fair and objective audits. In addition to the abovementioned organizations stipulated under Japan's Corporation Law, the Company established a Management Meeting composed of internal directors and executive officers appointed by the president. With the attendance of standing audit & supervisory board members, the Management Meeting makes prompt managerial decisions based on discussions or the reporting of matters considered to be important to management.

Furthermore, the Company adopted an executive officer system in March 2003. This system was put in place with the aim of establishing a management structure that promotes the separation of management supervision and execution, clarifies the rights and responsibilities of each business and promptly responds to changes in the business environment. As of the filing date of this report, there were 28 executive officers, 21 of whom did not serve concurrently as directors.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Furthermore, the Company resolved at the Meeting of the Board of Directors held in December 2015 to establish a Nomination and Remuneration Committee as a voluntary advisory body for the Board of Directors to ensure objective and transparent procedures for nominating officers and determining remuneration for officers. The Committee is chaired by an independent outside director, and the majority of members are independent outside officers.

3. Reason for Adopting the Current Governance System

The Company's basic management policy is to enhance not only its economic value but also its social value and contribute to the development of a sustainable society by ensuring that "Our Philosophy" is the foundation for all decision-making and the starting point for all actions. Under this policy, the Company considers the enhancement of corporate governance as one of its major management objectives. The reason for adopting the current system is to strengthen Group management and establish deep relationships of trust with society, while ensuring Groupwide business efficiency.

IV Basic Policy and Status of Implementation of the Internal Control System

1. Basic Policy and Status of Implementation of the Internal Control System

The Company's Board of Directors has resolved as follows to establish a system (the "Internal Control System") necessary to ensure the Proper execution of business as a kabushiki kaisha:

- (1) A system to preserve and manage information concerning the execution of business by the directors
Information concerning the execution of business by directors, such as documents on proposals or decisions, shall be recorded and managed appropriately in accordance with the Regulations Concerning Preservation of Documents. The directors and audit & supervisory board members shall be permitted to view these records at all times.
- (2) Rules concerning the risk management of loss and other systems
Management risks involving quality, law, environment, credit, accidents, disasters, etc., that may materially adversely affect our business activities shall be addressed by the relevant division in advance, by analyzing those risks and planning countermeasures in accordance with the Regulations Concerning Risk Control, and then referred to the management meeting for discussion.
If necessary, advice and guidance may be sought from professionals including as legal counsel, in analyzing and planning countermeasures for such risks.
Any risk comprehensively involving the Group shall be addressed by each business division for its respective business operation in coordination with other relevant divisions.
The Risk Management Committee shall oversee group-wide risk management activities and investigate as appropriate and confirm that the risk management system is functioning effectively.
If any material risk becomes clear or could be anticipated, the president shall establish a Risk Management Center pursuant to the Regulations Concerning Risk Control.
- (3) A system to ensure the efficient execution of business by directors
In order to ensure that the directors and managerial personnel may execute their business properly and efficiently, the duties, authority, and relevant operations shall be specifically allocated through the Regulations Concerning Allocation of Responsibility and Duties.
Furthermore, an Executive Officer System and Corporate Decentralizing System shall be introduced, whereby each company shall, led by its president, perform its business flexibly in response to the changing environment and customer needs.
With respect to the performance and efficiency of each division, a mid-term managerial plan shall be drawn up, targets shall be set at budget meetings (to be reviewed as necessary), and the status of achievements of those targets shall be reported and reviewed on a monthly basis at the Group's performance meetings.
All business operations shall actively promote IT and digital technology to enhance efficiency in the execution of business.
- (4) A system to ensure the execution of business by directors and employees is in compliance with law/regulations and the Articles of Incorporation
The Company ensures that the corporate philosophy of the Sumitomo Rubber Group, "Our Philosophy," is the foundation for all decision-making and the starting point for all actions. Our corporate Code of Conduct, and various compliance manuals shall be widely distributed, top management shall clarify its principles, and it shall be made thoroughly clear that compliance with laws and corporate ethics create the basic foundation of management.
The Corporate Ethics Committee, chaired by the president, shall identify, analyze, and evaluate those compliance risks comprehensively involving the entire Group, plan and conduct training, ascertain the cause of any violation, propose measures to prevent their recurrence, and ensure thorough familiarization of the foregoing throughout the Group.
A Corporate Ethics Help Line shall be established to allow employees, et al., to directly report and consult on any actions that are questionable of corporate ethics. Information received by the Corporate Ethics Help Line shall be reported to the Corporate Ethics Committee, which shall assess the situation and adopt the necessary measures.
- (5) A system to ensure the proper execution of business by the Group comprising the Company, its parent

company, and subsidiaries

The Sumitomo Rubber Group's Code of Conduct shall be widely distributed throughout the Group, and the Group shall strive to share those matters that need to be observed under legislation and in the operation of its business.

A system shall be established whereby the relevant division shall periodically receive reports from each subsidiary on its performance targets and achievements, and receive reports from the subsidiary on certain matters such as those that need to be reported to and discussed at the Company's management meetings and Board of Directors, risk management, and compliance matters. The foregoing shall then be discussed with the Company, if necessary, pursuant to the Regulations Concerning Management of Subsidiaries.

- (6) A system to ensure adequate financial reporting

The Group shall strive to maintain the Internal Control System in accordance with the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law and assessment/audit standards and implementation standards prescribed by the Financial Services Agency, and to enhance systems to ensure adequate financial reporting by the Company and its subsidiaries.

- (7) Establishment of a post to assist the duties of audit & supervisory board members at the request of the audit & supervisory board members

An employee shall be selected to work as an audit & supervisory board member's assistant to assist the duties of the audit & supervisory board members.

Audit & supervisory board member's assistant shall remain independent from directors

The opinion of the Audit & Supervisory Board shall be sought in advance in the event of carrying out personnel changes and evaluating the performance of an audit & supervisory board member's assistant

- (8) Systems to allow directors and employees to report to audit & supervisory board members and to allow other reports to be made to audit & supervisory board members

Standing audit & supervisory board members shall participate in management meetings and other important meetings.

Important matters such as those involving risk management shall be reported directly by directors or heads of divisions to audit & supervisory board members, as necessary. Matters reported to the Corporate Ethics Help Line (excluding minor problems) shall be reported to the Audit & Supervisory Board.

- (9) Other systems to ensure effective audit coverage by audit & supervisory board members

Audit & supervisory board members shall be given opportunities to receive explanations from directors and heads of divisions, as necessary.

2. Basic Policy and Status of Implementation of Efforts towards Exclusion of Antisocial Forces

1. The Company shall never have contacts or relations with any antisocial forces or organizations that might pose a threat to the order and safety of civil society and shall systematically deal with improper demands extorted thereby in a resolute attitude in collaboration with lawyers, the police and other relevant organizations.
2. In case any improper demands are extorted by antisocial forces, the contact shall be the staff responsible for preventing improper demands of the Human Resources & General Affairs Department as the handling and controlling business unit. The responsible staff shall receive appropriate guidance from the aforementioned external bodies at an early stage through collaboration therewith. The relevant responses are stipulated in the Code of Conduct of the Company.
3. The staff responsible for preventing improper demands shall have close contact with external bodies and collect information about antisocial forces on a routine basis. Meanwhile, the Human Resources & General Affairs Department shall internally disseminate necessary information, as required.

Supplementary Explanation relating to This Item

2. Other Items relating to Corporate Governance System, etc.

The schematic diagram depicting the corporate governance structure of the Company, including a summary of the Internal Control System thereof, is as shown in the reference material.

The Company is fully aware that the appropriate disclosure of corporate information at the proper timing to investors is a fundamental requisite of healthy securities markets. At the same time, the Company addresses the appropriate provision of corporate information at the proper timing to investors by improving its internal system, which is described in the attached document, so that swift, precise and fair disclosure of corporate information can be appropriately ensured at all times from the investors' viewpoint.

The current status of the internal system regarding the appropriate disclosure of corporate information at the proper timing of the Company is as described below.

Specifically, an information communications system is established for the respective "information on determined matters," "information on the occurrence of facts" and "information on financial results" cases. The Company also makes sincere efforts for the swift, precise and fair, and therefore appropriate, provision of corporate information at the proper timing to investors from the investors' viewpoint via the complete dissemination of required measures to facilitate an appropriate disclosure of corporate information at the proper timing.

1. Basic principles on the disclosure of corporate information at the proper timing

The Company regards compliance with the rules on the disclosure of corporate information at the proper timing as an obligation of a listed corporation from the viewpoint of overall compliance. The Company, therefore, is confident that the appropriate provision of information on investment decisions at the proper timing should result in fair stock prices and, by extension, raise the reliability of investors in the Company. At the disclosure at the proper timing, the Company makes efforts for the swift, precise and fair disclosure thereof.

2. Person responsible for handling information and the department in charge of the disclosure at the proper timing

The officer in charge of the Public Relations Department assumes a responsibility for handling information.

The Public Relations Department is in charge of the disclosure at the proper timing of the Company. The department is the contact for other respective business divisions and subsidiaries (the "Each Division/Department") and assists the person responsible for handling information.

The Accounting & Finance Department is actually in charge of preparing and disclosing the disclosure information based on information provided by the Public Relations Department.

3. Procedures for public announcement and information communications system

(1) The head of Each Division/Department shall contact every officer in charge and communicate with The Public Relations Department, the business unit responsible for handling information, if reportable insider information or significant corporate information, which is provided for by the stock exchange, is deemed to be possibly produced with regard to his/her own division/department (including any similar divisions or departments, as well as subsidiaries under his/her jurisdiction).

(2) The Public Relations Department shall review and determine the need for an announcement, the timing for such announcement, the content to be announced, the announcement method and so forth through consultations with related divisions and departments including the division/department concerned, the Accounting & Finance Department, the Human Resources & General Affairs Department and the Legal Department.

- (3) Pursuant to the above determinations, the Public Relations Department shall follow the necessary disclosure procedures as soon as possible for the “information on determined matters” after a relevant meeting of the Board of Directors and without delay for the “information on the occurrence of facts” and the “information on financial results.”

“Significant information regarding subsidiaries” shall be similarly handled as described above.
