The Group has been steadily implementing the Mid-Term Plan for 2023-2027. In 2025, which is considered the turning point, the Group focused on structural reforms and laying the foundations for growth businesses. In January, it concluded an agreement to acquire the trademark and other rights of DUNLOP in tires for four-wheel vehicles in Europe, North America, and the Oceania region, closed the transaction on May 7, and has since launched the DUNLOP business in North America and Oceania as the first step. Additionally, in March, the Group announced the Long-term Corporate Strategy “R.I.S.E. 2035,” aimed at achieving its goals for the year 2035. It encapsulates the Group’s desire of “Continuing to Provide ‘New Experiential Value’ Born from Rubber to Everyone,” and to this end, it aims to promote the premiumization of tires and build new sources of revenue. As a part of these efforts, in August, it signed an agreement to acquire Viaduct, Inc., a U.S.-based AI solutions startup. In December, it held DUNLOP Brand Strategy Announcement to share how the Group promotes brand management centered on the DUNLOP brand, which boasts a history of more than 130 years.

Tire sales volume through the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025 fell below the level of the same period of the previous fiscal year due to the intensifying global competition, the market stagnation caused by inflation and other factors as well as the discontinuation of some low-profit products. Business profit increased due to price increases and various internal efforts, as well as the positive effects of the closure of the U.S. tire plant, despite U.S. tariff impacts and rising costs such as labor expenses.

As a result, sales revenue of the Group decreased 0.4% from the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥1,207,061 million, business profit increased 3.2% to ¥90,786 million, operating profit increased 638.3% to ¥82,584 million and profit attributable to owners of parent increased 410.7% to ¥50,379 million.

Business performance by business segment was as follows.

Tire Business

Sales revenue in the tire business decreased 0.3% from the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥1,043,683 million, and business profit increased 4.8% to ¥79,812 million.

In the domestic original equipment market, sales volume exceeded the level of the same period of the previous fiscal year due to production cutbacks at some automobile manufacturers during the same period of the previous year, as well as the solid automobile production in the current fiscal year.

In the domestic replacement market, sales volume fell below the level of the same period last year, due to the discontinuation of low-priced products last fall and a decline in offtake product orders.

In the overseas original equipment market, a significant drop occurred in the sales volume to automobile manufacturers in Asia, particularly China.

In the overseas replacement market, overall sales volume in the Asia-Oceania region decreased from the level of the same period of the previous fiscal year as we put emphasis on sales focusing on profitability due to more budget-minded consumers and aggressive price initiatives launched by major Chinese brands. In Europe, overall sales volume slightly declined as sales decreased in the UK due to the deterioration of market conditions, although we were able to expand sales of FALKEN-brand tires, including all-season tires. In the American region, sales volume in North America decreased from the previous fiscal year due to the deterioration of market conditions for motorcycle tires, temporary factors that reduced sales, and the proactive passing on of tariff impacts to selling prices. Sales of DUNLOP brand tires in North America began as scheduled in June, and in December, we launched products manufactured in-house.

In South America, sales volume increased due to our efforts to promote sales expansion by working closely with our distributors amid sluggish market conditions.

As a result, sales revenue in the tire business fell below the level of the previous fiscal year, but business profit increased.

Sports Business

Sales revenue in the sports business decreased 0.1% from the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥125,574 million, and business profit decreased 13.3% from the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥6,831 million.

In the golf goods market, sales revenue exceeded the level of the previous fiscal year, as strong sales of SRIXON brand golf clubs and balls, as well as the favorable performance of XXIO 14 launched in Japan in November, more than offset the decline in sales in South Korea caused by the deterioration of market conditions.

In the tennis goods market, sales exceeded the level of the previous fiscal year due to increased sales in the major markets such as Japan and Europe.

Sales revenue in the sports business was on a par with the level of the same period of the previous fiscal year, as we transferred all shares of the target company's wellness business, excluding the golf and tennis schools, to new shareholders in early December 2024. Business profit decreased due to a decline in sales in South Korea, a highly profitable market.

Industrial and Other Products Business

Sales revenue in the industrial and other products business decreased 5.0% from the same period of the previous fiscal year to ¥37,804 million, and business profit increased 11.7% to ¥4,159 million.

Sales in the industrial and other products business fell below the level of the previous fiscal year due to a decline in sales in the business of rubber parts for office equipment and rubber gloves, as well as withdrawal from the gas pipe business at the end of March and the stock transfer of our European subsidiary engaged in manufacturing and sales of medical rubber products conducted in the previous fiscal year. Business profit exceeded the level of the previous fiscal year due to robust domestic sales of medical rubber products and solid sales performance in the vibration control damper business, as well as improved product mix for rubber parts for office equipment.

Total assets as of December 31, 2025 increased ¥118,809 million from the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥1,459,932 million. Total current assets increased ¥9,552 million, mainly as a result of increase in other current assets. Total non-current assets increased ¥109,257 million, mainly as a result of increase in intangible assets.

Total liabilities as of December 31, 2025 increased ¥58,309 million from the end of the previous fiscal year to ¥723,622 million. Interest-bearing debt increased ¥75,411 million to ¥406,629 million.

Total equity as of December 31, 2025 amounted to ¥736,310 million, of which equity attributable to owners of parent was ¥716,080 million. Ratio of equity attributable to owners of parent was 49.0%, and equity attributable to owners of parent per share was ¥2,724.44.

3) Cash Flows

Net cash provided by operating activities was ¥150,427 million, the increase being primarily due to the recording of profit before taxes of ¥77,789 million and depreciation and amortization of ¥78,669 million, although there were cash outflows such as income taxes paid of ¥16,916 million.

Net cash used in investing activities was ¥186,556 million, mainly due to the purchase of intangible assets of ¥120,177 million, the purchase of tangible assets of ¥58,900 million, and the purchase of shares of subsidiaries resulting in change in scope of consolidation of ¥15,137 million.

As a result, free cash flow, which is computed by subtracting the net cash used in investing activities from the net cash provided by operating activities, was a negative balance of ¥36,129 million.

Net cash provided by financing activities was ¥30,880 million, primarily due to cash inflows including proceeds from long-term debt and newly issued bonds of ¥87,271 million, despite cash outflows such as repayments of long-term debt and redemption of bonds of ¥22,271 million, cash dividends paid of ¥16,821 million, and repayments of lease liabilities of ¥16,479 million.

As a result, cash and cash equivalents at the end of the fiscal year under review were ¥98,642 million after reflecting the effects such as exchange rate change on cash and cash equivalents.

(2) Business Forecast for Fiscal 2026

During the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026, the Group expects to incur expenses associated with launching the DUNLOP-branded business in Europe, North America, and Oceania, as well as the impact of U.S. tariffs, rising labor costs, and increased investments related to digital transformation (DX). On the other hand, higher sales volumes in the tire business, improvements in the product mix, and a decline in raw material prices are expected to contribute positively to earnings, leading to profits for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026 that exceed the results for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025.

The Group is working to strengthen its earnings base responding quickly to the change in the business environment and considering the quality of profits and the sustainability of growth. The current estimates of the Group's future business performance are as follows.

(Change in Accounting Estimate)

As required pursuant to IAS 29 “Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies,” the Group has, since the second quarter of the fiscal year ended December 31, 2022, revised the financial statements of its Turkish subsidiary, whose functional currency is the Turkish lira, to reflect the unit of measurement that is current as of the period end, and has included said revised financial statements in its consolidated financial statements. When restating the acquisition costs of non-monetary items by applying a conversion coefficient based on the initial acquisition date thereof, certain assumptions were made. With the availability of new information, the Group refined its estimates and accordingly changed its accounting estimates in the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025. As a result of this change in estimates, tangible assets increased ¥6,607 million, intangible assets increased ¥41 million, cost of sales increased ¥966 million, selling, general and administrative expenses increased ¥47 million, and financial income increased ¥7,661 million.

(Notes on Material accounting policy)

The material accounting policies applied in preparing the consolidated financial statements are the same as those applied in the previous fiscal year.
