

November 19, 2020
Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd.

Warning: Be Aware of Fraudulent Emails Claiming Association with Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd.

It has recently come to our attention that some person or persons has been sending emails to recipients in various countries, claiming to be a recruiter working for Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd. and discussing a job offering that involves collecting payments from our clients and customers in the same region as the recipient.

These emails are fraudulent; Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd. is in no way associated, affiliated or involved with the sender of these emails and has no knowledge of any such job offering. These fraudulent emails are being sent from email addresses registered to the “@gmail.com” domain and Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd. does not, under any circumstances, use Gmail or any other free email service to send email concerning company business.

We ask that anyone who receives an email like what has been described above please kindly disregard it. Under no circumstances should anyone engage in any kind of business or other dealings with the sender of these fraudulent emails. Please understand that Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd. is in no way responsible for any damages or other harm that any person may incur as a result of engaging in business or other dealings as a result of these fraudulent emails.

Should you wish to alert us to any other suspicious emails, etc., or should you have any other questions or concerns, please feel free to contact us via the “Other Inquiries” form on our official company website.

End of Document